PRICE: FIVE CENTS

"Preposterous fabrication of lies" retorted Harry H. Jackson, ex-warden of the state prison at Jackson, to the following convict told charges as aired at state civil service commission hearings in Lansing.

That nearly two dozen cases of whiskey were delivered to Jackson's prison residence from O'Larry's bar in Detroit where the state charged the murder of Senator Warren G. Hopper was plotted.

That a prison inmate was permitted to visit a house of ill fame several times and that the prison employees who arranged it went unpunished.

That wide-open gambling prevailed at times in the prison yard where prisoners ran black-jack and dice tables.

That a guard was bribed to permit a girl to visit the hospital room of an inmate.

Jackson was discharged after an investigation by Attorney General John R. Balthasar had disclosed alleged misadministration of the prison by the following: Jackson, the warden; D. C. Pettit, assistant deputy warden; George I. Francis, deputy warden; H. Charles Warden, record clerk; Walter L. Wilson, chief guard inspector; Richard T. Riley, athletic director; and Joseph G. Porter, accountant.

The seven officials, dismissed from their duties, appealed the action of the state corrections commission to the civil service commission which is now conducting hearings on the evidence.

Pettit withdrew his appeal. Following disclosures that O'Larry's bar had again figured in scandal, the state liquor control commission ordered a hearing April 18 to face charges of illegal sales.

An unexpected bouquet was handed to the state liquor control commission by E. C. Prettyman, superintendent of the Michigan Temperance Foundation, the director of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League. Said Prettyman, as quoted in the press:

"The state commission has done more toward cleaning up the licenses and licenses places than any commission since I came to Michigan four and a half years ago."

Prettyman's comment followed the state convention at Lansing of the Michigan Table-Top Licensees, dispensers of beer and liquor, who were urged by Thomas O'Keefe, leading Detroit beer distributor, to elect people to office who are honest and will "do the job you want them to do."

According to Prettyman, spokesmen for the drys, the liquor licensees are going into politics. Another quotation: "We have from a reliable source information that one of the Republican candidates for governor can have a large contribution for his campaign fund if he will get rid of a certain member of the liquor control commission."

If you wonder why Michigan's primary election is going to be held in mid-June this year instead of mid-July, here's the reason.

Michigan farmers and fishermen take their responsibilities seriously. So much so that the state legislature decided in its 1946 special session to change the election date.

Governor Kelly originally suggested July 9, just two days off the time of the 1944 state primary on July 11. But that is a busy plowing season for farmers, so the date was moved by a legislative bill-drafting committee to June 25.

Then Rep. Elton R. Eaton, Plymouth newspaper publisher, reminded voters that June 25 was the opening of the bass season and that Republicans needed the fishermen vote because of the average fisherman's "high intelligence."

June 18 was the "final choice" because farmers like to plow in July and because bass fishermen prefer to go fishing on June 25.

The state law requires county political conventions to be held within nine days after the primary, making June 27 as the last convention date.

The Michigan Republican state central committee has selected Friday, July 5, for the state convention which will be held at the Cass Technical high school, Detroit. The Democratic choice is Saturday, July 6, at the Prudden auditorium, Lansing.

The Michigan supreme court has ruled that it is legal to gamble on horses under the 1933 pari-mutuel betting law. A Wayne county judge had ruled that it

BUCKS, GAYLORD GRAYLING VICTIMS

As the Grayling Green Wave was scheduled to go to Mancelona to play this afternoon the season record stood at four wins and no defeats as the local boys cleaned up Gaylord and Roscommon during the past week.

Behind the three hit hurling of Bill Muhr, the local team downed a Gaylord nine 3 to 2 last Thursday afternoon. Grayling gained three runs—two from 5 hits while Gaylord produced but two runs from 3 hits.

Craft, Grayling left fielder worked two walks and scored both times. Mathewson collected two of the Grayling hits while Caid, Muhr and Pentz each hit safely once. Muhr struck out 11 while walking 2 and hit one batsman. Laws, Gaylord hurler walked 4 as he struck out 5.

Defeat Bucks 30 to 5

Tuesday, the Grayling nine traveled to Roscommon to engage in a slugfest that left them winners by a 30 to 5 score. Grayling scored their 30 runs on 20 hits while Roscommon scored 5 runs on 4 hits.

Ted Bennett collected two home runs, Keway hit one and Myers of Roscommon collected a plate circling hit. Kelley, Roscommon catcher hit 3 three baggers while Mathewson, Keway and Caid of Grayling each hit doubles.

Keway started on the mound for Grayling and allowed 9 runs on 3 hits in 3 innings. He was relieved by Harry Miller who allowed but one hit in four innings and no runs. Pratt started for the Bucks and allowed 9 runs on 3 hits in 3 innings. Knapp came into the game and gave up 21 runs on 11 hits in 4 innings.

Bud Caid, Grayling second baseman hit safely 4 times while Carlson, Bennett, Keway and Bickel all hit safely three times. Muhr got two hits. Coach Willard Cornell used 12 men in the hitting and base running contest. Roscommon used 11 men during the game.

Of the contestants, six were in service during World War II. Selesky, Leo Lovely, Willard Harwood and Robert Hanson on the Republican side of the ledger, and James Post and Robert Neafie from the Democratic.

The only present office holders to file are Fred Niederer, Charles Moore and Alfred Sorenson. Sheriff John A. Papendick, County Treasurer Earl Burns and County Clerk Bessie Doner are withdrawing from office at the end of their present terms.

Report Of Grayling Boys' Club Doings

Citizens of Grayling: Your Boy's Club will go on to their summer schedule this week, meeting on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 till 8:30.

You are cordially invited to visit a club meeting on any of these evenings and see the work we have put in on our club building. Our building is the 21 by 30 foot building in the City Park. We have done a lot of work on it but in order to finish it up in good shape, we need the following critical (and very hard to get) materials: 32 pieces, 4x6 foot of Colotex; 200 feet of 1x12 inch Colotex; 200 feet of 1x2 inch boards; 200 feet of 2x2 inch strips and 200 feet of 2x4 lumber. Also we could use some nails. Anyone who can donate even a very small part of any of these items can be assured of a warm thank you by the club members.

Labor is one thing we are all set on, if we just had the material we could certainly finish up our building in A-1 shape.

Sincerely yours,
John Hanover,
Boy's Club Reporter.

Lt. and Mrs. Emil Kraus, Jr. of San Juan, Puerto Rico are happy over the arrival of a daughter, Mary Virginia, born April 12. She weighed about 7 pounds at birth.

Mrs. Robert Hayes entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club on April 17. Guests of the club were Mrs. Thomas Stancil and Mrs. Ella Wilcox. Mrs. C. R. April-12. She weighed about 7 pounds at birth.

"A big one," Says Sailor

As Frank Catto, public relations director of radio station WBCN held the microphone William "Sailor Bill" Huddleston of Grayling told him of the big trout in the AuSable. Ernie Borchers looks on as he waited to tell of the "big ones" he has observed.

Besides the two pictured above, Hans Peterson, Arthur Clough, G. M. Benedict of the Eastern Michigan Tourist Association and Dr. Leonard Allison, District Fisheries Biologist who is stationed at the Grayling Hatchery, all took part in the wire recording which formed a 15 minute broadcast over the Bay City station last Monday night.

WINTER AND SPRING WEATHER AIDS TROUT CARRYOVER AND RESTOCKING

Barring the one hazard of heavy late-April rains, fishermen should find stream and sideroad conditions to their liking when trout season opens April 27. Supervisors of the conservation department's 11 fisheries districts report uniformly favorable conditions.

The mild winter provided a good carryover of wild trout, and early opening of sideroads following fine March weather permitted larger than usual preseason planting of legal-size fish, especially in the upper peninsula. If there are heavy rains, streams are expected to be near normal levels and clear. Snow has disappeared from woods and swamps.

The advanced season will have the effect in some streams, however, of allowing big rainbows to complete their spawning and return to the Great Lakes before trout fishing begins.

Fly fishing is expected to be better than usual on opening day on most lower peninsula streams. Trout have been observed feeding on flies already in Sturgeon River, Cheboygan County and Bear Creek, Manistee County. Large stone fly hatches have been seen on streams of Crawford, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Montmorency Counties.

Rains could quickly roll most streams, to favor bait fishermen. Little affected by surface drainage, however, are the small spring fed streams of southern Michigan which support trout.

Many anglers will give their first attention to trout lakes, which are less affected than streams by adverse spring weather. The lakes furnish their best trout fishing in the spring while the trout are near the surface or in shoal water. Some in southern Michigan will open the season on specially managed trout ponds, though they are limited there to two eight-inch trout taken on artificial flies.

The official forecast by the Conservation Department for the northern counties of the southern peninsula was as follows:

Excellent trout fishing forecast in counties at tip of southern peninsula, with all streams reported clear and below normal levels. Small smelt runs on Carp Creek, Emmet County; Mill Creek, Cheboygan County; Carp Creek, Presque Isle County; and some Charlevoix County streams. Sucker runs reported in Alpena County streams. Perch are running in Cheboygan and Thunder Bay Rivers and perch fishing is good on Long Lake, fair at Charlevoix and Ironton. Rainbow run not heavy yet.

Trout streams are clear and below normal levels, with very little rain to date in Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Missaukee and Wexford Counties. Rainbow spawners scattered. There is fair trout fishing in Manistee and Wexford counties, and some suckers are being taken on Manistee River and Bear Creek.

All streams in Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Isco Counties at normal levels and clear, and the trout season opening will be better than average if present weather conditions continue. There is a good run of rainbows in East Branch of AuGres River, Isco County. Lake trout biting in Higgins Lake. Smelt runs are over. Perch and herring starting to bite at Lake Huron.

For 99 out of 100 trout fishermen beginning their season's sport April 27, the regulations are simple and unchanged from what they were a year earlier. Special experimental rules, which much has been heard lately apply, the conservation department is emphasizing, to a few specific waters only.

Trout must be at least seven inches long to go legally into the creel, and this size limit is older than the conservation department, now rounding out its twenty-fifth year. On streams the angler can take 15 trout, a creel limit that is more than 20 years old.

The numerical creel limit was qualified four years ago by a weight limit providing the total may not exceed 10 pounds and one fish. Designed to spread the fishing for big brown and rainbow trout among more anglers, the weight limit affects only the fortunate few who could otherwise take more than two 10-pound trout in a day. On 130 designated trout lakes the angler can take 10 trout, again within the 10 pounds and one fish weight restriction.

Special experimental rules apply to only nine trout waters: Hunt and Fuller Creeks in Montmorency County and ponds in Barry, Calhoun, Hillsdale, Jackson and Washtenaw Counties. The experimental rules currently in use are posted at each of these fishing spots.

Stream improvements in the Pere Marquette, North Branch of the AuSable, Two Hearted and Dowagiac Rivers, creation of three more southern Michigan trout ponds, and improvements at 13 public fishing sites have been approved by the conservation commission for the fiscal year 1946-47.

GENERAL RE-REGISTRATION AFFECTS CRAWFORD COUNTY ELECTORS

CITY VOTERS NOT REQUIRED AS PERMANENT REGISTRATION IN EFFECT

All prospective voters in Crawford County with the exception of members of the armed forces and those voting within the City of Grayling, must re-register at least 30 days before the general election on November 5, according to the Amendment passed by the State House of Representatives in the extra session of 1946.

Township clerks will accept any qualified voter's registration act as it affected Crawford County was made Monday by City Clerk George Granger and County Clerk Bessie Doner, who stated that it would not be necessary for voters to re-register for the primary election, but it would be absolutely necessary to do so for the general election.

City of Grayling voters will not be required to re-register due to the fact that a permanent registration system was instituted here some years ago. City Clerk George Granger explained. The registration system will institute the same procedure throughout the rural areas of the state, it was said.

The only city electors who will be required to re-register are those who have not voted at least once in the past two years, it was explained. Those voters will be notified by postcard 30 days in advance of the last day of registration, Clerk Granger stated.

DRY CLEANING SHOP CHANGES OWNERSHIP

The Gross Cleaners in Grayling changed owners—on Monday when Gar Merritt of between Grayling and Gaylord took over as the new owner from Norm Gross.

Gross, who opened the business in February of this year, will move to California with his wife and baby. Merritt will continue the business under the original name. He will stay at his place of residence between here and Gaylord for the time being, driving back and forth to the business.

GERRISH-HIGGINS PTA PLANS DRESSUP DANCE

The Gerrish-Higgins PTA are planning a hard times dance at the Roscommon school on Saturday night, April 27.

The outstanding feature of the party will be two dance bands. The High School Swing Band will compete with Larry's Local Lunatics for honors. The School band has proved its ability at school dances during the winter and Larry's Band promises to be a success. The last named band receives its name from Larry Gulick, the pianist who has as his able helpers Gilbert Stansell and his violin and Fred Campbell and his guitar.

New Shoe Repair Shop Opens Here

On Tuesday, May 1, a new shoe repair shop is opening its doors in Grayling. It is to be located on US-27 across the street from the Gross Cleaners in what formerly was the old Cooley house.

It will be operated by Bill Nawatny and his wife, Eunice, who bought the property and have completely rebuilt the front part of the house to accommodate all of the equipment for a modern shoe repair shop.

All types of service that go along with a modern shoe repair shop, including stitching, patching and vulcanizing, in addition to the usual heels, soles, etc. One piece of equipment, known as the "Amico" electric press takes only five minutes to cement a pair of soles on a woman's shoe, whereas the old hand press method took 45 minutes for the same process. A complete stock of laces, polishes, saddle soap and other shoe material will also be handled in addition to the repair work.

McGillis-Feldhauser Wed in Roscommon

A quiet but impressive wedding was solemnized at the Congregational Parsonage in Roscommon last Saturday at 3 o'clock when Miss Dorothy Jane McGillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGillis of South Branch became the bride of John L. Feldhauser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Feldhauser of Maple Forest.

The bride was attired in a white silk jersey with purple carnations and white accessories. Her corsage was garlanded with pink sweetpeas. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Andrus, who wore a green and white silk jersey. Her corsage was also of gardenias and sweetpeas. Robert Andrus, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Gerrish Higgins High School, class of '44, while the groom was discharged from the armed forces last December. He had been 3 1/2 years in the service of which 18 months was spent in Africa, Italy and France.

The couple will make their home in Grayling, where the groom is employed by Alfred Hanson.

Some 22 people, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Penrod met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wright for an impromptu farewell party for the Penrods who left Grayling Monday.

N. A. Szkotnicki of Erie, Pennsylvania, is the guest of Yelva Stephan for an indefinite stay.

Make Good Garden Soil If Nature Didn't

Good soil is the first secret of a good garden. Jack Rose, extension gardening specialist at Michigan State College, contends that no matter what ordinary soil you start with, it can be made into good garden soil for growing either flowers or vegetables.

Start building the soil before you plant, he suggests. Improve soil texture to make it crumbly and mellow to work. Soil must be in porous condition to allow plant roots a supply of air. Yet it must be able to hold moisture and plant food.

Whether a soil is clay-heavy, wet and hard to work, or very sandy—easy to work, it can be improved by the same treatment. Add organic matter in the form of rotted manure, compost, peat moss or dried sheep or cow manure. Clay soil can be improved permanently by adding a dandy soil can be improved by adding clay. A clay soil will have better texture if it is plowed in the fall.

A good soil must contain organic matter. Manure should be added at the rate of one pound to each square foot. The same application of compost is recommended. If peat moss is used, 300 to 400 pounds per 1,000 square feet is enough. Two hundred pounds of sheep manure per 1,000 square feet of area is about right. Organic matter in any form will improve soil texture. But chemical nutrients are essential too. These can be added with a commercial fertilizer. About 30 pounds per 1,000 square feet will supply the plant food needed. Use 4-12-24 or 4-16-8 fertilizer.

OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS

Accreditation For Veterans' Service-Acquired

Normally, credit is available to veterans for their service-acquired skills. This credit takes the form of academic credit in some cases, and in others it is translated into upgrading of veterans in their occupations. It must be emphasized that such credit is in no sense a "gift" to the veteran. It is merely recognition of that which the veteran possesses. It is a translation of his qualifications from one form to another—from the United States Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) courses, for instance, to high school unit credits, or from a record of three years as a Navy electrician's mate to status as a second-year apprentice in the electrical industry.

Aware of the availability of this accreditation. They need to be told that they have an asset upon which they should capitalize. This asset is frozen until they take the steps necessary to apply it to their individual advantage. It is recommended that all employment and educational counselors in Community Advisory Centers keep this fact in mind.

Veterans should be urged to avail themselves of whatever credit may be granted them by their employers or the educational institutions of their choice.

Employers and educational institutions are not universally aware of the value of the veteran's training and experience. They should be encouraged to cooperate in the evaluation of the veteran's educational development in such a way as to insure its proper recognition.

Local school boards, joint labor-management committees, colleges, industrial personnel directors, and the like should be indoctrinated. Because of the large number of jobs which require graduation from high school, or the equivalent, as a condition of eligibility, it is urged that the use of USAFI General Educational Development Tests be stimulated.

Local veteran counseling centers are fully informed on this subject and will assist veterans in securing tests, and in getting proper evaluation of service-acquired experience.

Best War Memorial I Know

There's an old war memorial in our town that I like to stop and look at now and then.

Back in 1885, folks gathered up all the bitter relics of battle and put them in a pile: cannon, battered rifles, broken swords, and rusted bayonets. Some of them from our side, some captured from the enemy.

They melted them down, and from this litter of war sprung a monument to friendship, tolerance and understanding—a promise that the bitterness and hatred were forgotten.

Since then, there've been all kinds of disagreements in this country, big and little. Prohibition was one—and there was plenty of bloodshed, misery and grief until the problem was resolved.

But from where I sit, it's part of the greatness of America that we remain a united country. We may disagree as individuals—but, accepting that difference of opinion, we can live in tolerance and mutual respect.

FULL POWER
FULL POWER from the gasoline makes a car livelier, stronger pulling. To get this full power, however, is not as simple as it sounds. Here's why:

It takes 10,000 or more separate charges of gasoline each minute to propel a modern 8-cylinder car at 50 miles per hour. To deliver full power, each charge must ignite and burn in 1-300 of a second or less.

Improved Fire-Power gives Texaco Sky Chief and Fire-Chief the ability to deliver full power under these fast-firing conditions. This improved Fire-Power is the result of Texaco's accurate balance of volatility with other important gasoline qualities.

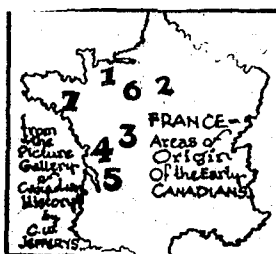

Thanks to Sky Chief's and Fire-Chief's improved Fire-Power, engines run more powerfully and easily. Motorists enjoy livelier, smoother action and get more miles per gallon on the highway.

In Texaco Fire-Chief, this improved Fire-Power benefits the performance of any engine. In Texaco Sky Chief, it assures the finest performance that today's high-speed, high-compression engines are designed to give.

All Set For Opening Day Of Trout Season In Crawford County

By Roy B. Conkling, Sr.

"See the world, and die— but the Spirit will return to the Northland."

There are folks who travel the world around in quest of the IDEAL fishing grounds... where the streams are pure, crystal clear and with plenty of the fish of all fishes, the Trout—where the woodland close in about and over the rushing waters, and Nature in all her primal glory, reigns.

If these seekers after the perfect fishing territory the height of all heights in the hearts of the Disciples ofzaak Walton, but once visit Northern Michigan, the goal of the quest, the Fisherman's Paradise, is reached.

We believe we have found that Paradise in Crawford County, in Northern Michigan. Nothing so far, in the three years we have spent here has changed that opinion one iota. Here the pine-lands are everywhere—the waters of the streams and lakes noted for their purity. Through Crawford County flow the mighty AuSable, its North, East, and South Branches, Big Creek, and the almost numberless tributaries—and the rushing Manistee—all teeming with the FISH of all fishes, the TROUT.

Here the trout fisherman has miles on miles of wading water, and of canoeing water—swift, running streams bordered by the dense forests of pines, cedars, tamarack, birches, poplar and hardwoods, and wild flowers. In all their beauty and profusion—and human habitations are few and far between.

It is really getting off the beaten track to fish in Crawford County. It is really getting back to the lonesome places, where the solitudes of unbroken forests line the streams... where one is indeed very close to his Creator. The anglers is far from the noise, confusion, turmoil and dirt of the thickly populated centers, the worries and cares of the job, the smallness of human ambitions and aspirations, likes and dislikes, selfishness and pettiness—out in the openness of God's Real Country.

The last Saturday in April of each year comes just when Dame Nature is donning her green garment of Springtime in Northern Michigan and Crawford County—and brings with it the opening of the Trout Fishing Season. It matters not if this day be rather chilly or rainy—in fact it seems to matter not what the condition of the weather or temperature—on this day the trout fisherman, with his fly rod and often rather large complement of tackle and flies, sets forth for his favorite trout stream—his favorite stretch of water—intent on bringing home enough trout to make for a real feast. AND trout—prepared just right, fried to a crisp brown in deep fat—in our estimation, are a dish for the gods!

This year the Trout Season opens with every prospect of being one of the best Northern Michigan has ever known. Conservation men state the trout are jumping in all streams in Crawford County, with hatches of insects already out—and every indication is that all the streams, with added stocking during the past fall and early spring, will furnish excellent fishing.

We've had a rather early spell of warm weather. This has brought with it hatches of insects and the trout fed on these. This means the fly fisherman can expect luck with his favorite flies on opening day, provided the sun is out or the hatches are or both.

Sailor Bill Huddleston says he will stick to nymphs and streamers if the water is high, otherwise trout. Owners of cabins along the streams are also ready to supply them with their needs—that they may set forth Saturday with confidence of getting their share of the catch.

Ernie Borchers advises stone flies or blue dun Coachman if the weather's nice, otherwise nymphs or streamers—or just plain "garden hackle" as a last resort.

Local canoe livers, stores and other services that cater to the fishermen, are all set to supply them with their needs—that they may set forth Saturday with confidence of getting their share of the catch.

Ownership of cabins along the streams are also ready to take care of the anglers. Quite a few of these services have their advertisements in this edition of the Crawford Avalanche, and we endorse these firms and individuals as well worth patronizing—they truly want to make the Opening Day and all season a success for the fishermen. We might add that these advertisements have been in the paper for months preparing for the Trout Season, that every need of the Trout Fisherman may be taken care of—to have all the merchandise and services as complete as possible. The canoe livers, fly-makers, sporting goods and tackle stores, and all the other services advertised in this issue of the Avalanche take pride in giving the best merchandise and service possible, all of which mean a lot to the fishing enthusiasts' success and enjoyment of Opening Day and the balance of the Trout Season.

Of course, due to the recent war period and the aftermath of labor unrest and strikes, some articles of fishing equipment are very scarce or unavailable, but in most cases you can get all you really need right here in Crawford County.

Here's to each and every one of you Trout Fishing enthusiasts—may your luck on Opening Day be good—and we know you'll be happy wading the old familiar streams (or gliding over them in canoes) again, pitting your lures and skill against the brookies, browns and rainbows... and reveling in the beauty of the ever-changing scenery along the swift running waters of Crawford County's streams.

Tight lines to all of you!

Spice Up Diet For Hatchery Trout

Paprika is being added in quantity to the diet of trout at the conservation department's Harrietta hatchery, not because the fish have to be tempted to eat the food offered them in these days of meat scarcity but to give them the same rosy pink coloration that their wild cousins have.

The 110 pounds of the spice received for the first test at Harrietta would be equivalent to 880 two-ounce packages such as housewives buy at groceries. Pale hatchery-bred trout will get plenty of it. Two per cent of paprika in the diet produces a healthful glow that will persist up to two months after release. By that time they will be feeding on the wild stuff that colors their natural born relatives.

Only brook and brown trout will get the spiced diet. The Federal Fish and Wildlife Service, which pioneered in the paprika experiments, says no way of coloring rainbow trout has yet been found.

Petsamo Harbor Free of Ice

More than 35 species of edible clams live on the Pacific coast but only five are commercially valuable, and of these, one, the razor clam, accounts for 65 per cent of the total annual catch.

no loss so long as it burned no Even in 1921 there was a fire that burned 19 days through 17 square miles of "wonderful second-growth coniferous timber" in Luce County. In recent years the fire loss is measured in acres instead of square miles, and though hundreds of thousands more persons now visit the north woods, the loss has been held as low as 15,000 acres a year. The notion that a forest fire was as much an act of God as a rainstorm has been quietly forgotten, and the state is green again.

FIRE FIGHTING SYSTEM CHANGES

Fast work by 2,000 men rushed to the scene of Michigan's early April forest fires with motorized equipment and coordinated in their efforts by two-way radio points up the vast technical advance of the Conservation Department's forest fire fighting section in the department's 25th anniversary year.

A quarter-century ago, rural mail carriers were reporting fires and horse-and-wagon loads of men with shovels went out to fight them, often with a railroad right-of-way the only means of access. Today trucks and tractors move swiftly over a network of well kept fire lines with such specialized Michigan-developed tools as the jet well that makes water available to pumps in a few minutes anywhere in the sandy plains country, a heavy-duty plough that makes a wide fire-break in the toughest sod and brush, and the sandslinging trencher that does the work of 50 men with shovels.

Open crow's nest towers have been replaced with tall cabin-type structures, the once sketchy telephone system is now elaborate, and is supplemented by 300 two-way radios, most of them in cars and trucks. Many civilians in each locality are trained for emergency service.

Public appreciation of the problem has changed with the years. Twenty-five years ago the division had to beg for its appropriation of less than $100,000 and a forest fire was believed to cause

Lay Your Course, America!

Like spring thunderheads the evidence towers blackly, formidably, over the country, plainly spelling out a fact that can no longer be ignored; inflation cannot be controlled by decree. The issue of whether to sacrifice a continually larger measure of representative government in the hope of putting the lid on inflation, is rapidly becoming academic. We have both inflation and dangerously autocratic government. The only real question is how to get rid of the frustrated decree system before it becomes a "way of life."

Total war brought about unavoidable public debt increases. This debt is beginning to bear down upon the home front in rising prices and depreciating money, with all of the accompanying evils. The people should begin to think clearly on these problems—their freedom hangs in the balance. As disillusionment spreads, they will have a tendency to look for somebody to blame. The danger is that they will blame our form of government itself, because so many irresponsible public officials have been making foolish promises. It is a short step from blaming government, to changing government, and if we change our government in this country it can be changed in but one direction—away from "by the people and for the people." Unless the American people think clearly during this critical period, they may let inflation sow seeds of bitterness that will sweep away the great American experiment in human freedom which has given this nation so rich a life for over a century and a half.

waan't. The Detroit track will open May 25 and continue through July 20, announces William J. Dowling, racing commissioner.

Despite the long automobile strike, Michigan retail sales are still climbing, and the state department of revenue at Lansing anticipates a total of $111 million income for the current fiscal year closing June 30. This will be approximately $12 million over the previous year.

Privately department officials are counting on a sustained high income from sales taxes for the years of 1946 and 1947.

Remember, the economic adjustment after World War I came in 1920, two years after the Armistice.

EXPLODES ANOTHER
HISTORY MYTH

(Editor's Note—This is the second of a series dealing with myths and inaccuracies in Michigan history, some of which have persisted despite disclosure of real facts.)

Ann Arbor, Michigan.—British troops did not destroy public property before evacuating Detroit in 1796, according to F. Clever Bald, war historian of the University of Michigan. He says the story is an example of the "British myth" which distorts Michigan history.

Bald indicates the incorrect version of the British evacuation in accordance with the terms of Jay's Treaty first was published in 1839 and was repeated, with variations, by at least 10 writers in subsequent years.

"The myth has done a great deal of harm in keeping alive American animosity toward Great Britain," Bald says. "The correct account of the incident was published in his history, the last of Detroit published after that date repeat the fictitious story."

One historian wrote that Detroit was vacated by the British after the wells had been filled with stones, windows broken and the gates of the fort locked.

General Wayne, commander of American troops taking over the fort, reported it had been surrendered in "the most polite, friendly and accommodating manner." The General was so pleased with the British attitude that he ordered a ship's captain going to Mackinac to transport British troops on the return trip, Bald says.

Another indication of friendly relations existing between the British and Americans was the lend-lease by the British of 20,000 pounds of pork for the American troops, Bald indicated. It was stipulated that the Americans would repay the loan in fresh beef after the weather had become cold enough for slaughtering.

"This early practice of lend-lease, put into operation informally by an agreement between British and American Army officers without the necessity of an act of Congress, shows that courtesy and co-operation marked the dealings of the British and Americans, instead of a spiteful attitude," he said.

that people with tuberculosis transmit the disease to other people.

Koch's discovery was an invaluable contribution to knowledge about this baffling disease. Medical science, however, was still faced with many problems connected with it. Advanced tuberculosis was easily recognized by the experienced doctor, but tuberculosis is difficult to cure in its advanced stages. The doctor wanted to learn to find it in its early stage.

There are two reasons why it is important to find tuberculosis in its early stages. One is for the protection of the individual and the other is for the protection of society. The cure of the individual often rests upon finding the disease before extensive damage has been done to the lungs. And control of the disease depends upon finding the unknown causes which are threatening the health of other persons in the community.

Another nineteenth century discovery opened the door to early diagnosis. This was the X-ray, discovered by Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen, German physicist. This remarkable ray, which has the power to penetrate opaque matter, has become the chief diagnostic weapon in the fight against tuberculosis. By means of the X-ray, doctors can see the lung and study pictures made of it.

Progress made in the development of X-ray machinery in the past 25 years has placed this diagnostic aid at the disposal of everyone. Today X-ray equipment is included in every modern hospital. Many physicians have X-ray machines in their private offices. In addition, mobile X-ray units are operated by the U. S. Public Health Service, state health departments and voluntary health associations in a vast nationwide campaign to find unknown cases of tuberculosis. Every adult should have a chest X-ray at least once a year. It is the only way to be sure he hasn't the disease and that he isn't communicating it to someone else.

Playing safe with the heart will be discussed in the next article.

Here's To Health

FENDING TB EARLY

Tremendous strides have been made in the conquest of tuberculosis in the twentieth century, yet the disease is one of the greatest public health problems in this country, killing approximately 55,000 persons a year.

Prior to the latter part of the nineteenth century, so little was known about tuberculosis that doctors could offer little hope of recovery to its victims. Then in 1882 Robert Koch discovered the tubercle bacillus and proved that it was the sole cause of the disease.

So it became known that tuberculosis is caused by a germ, and germs are catching. This means
